INDIANS BATTLE PALO ALTO FOR P.A.L. CROWN

SAN FRANCISCO FIRM GETS CONTRACT FOR $298,000 DALY CITY BUILDING

Work Begins This Week On Center Which Will Be Completed September 1

Thanks to the fast talking and quick work of Mayor Paul Green and Councilman Fred Bertetta, work began this week on the city's $298,000 community recreation center.

The two city officials returned from Washington, D.C., Sunday night to announce that they had saved the building from a recent National Production Board ruling which bans further construction of recreation projects to conserve vital materials.

Record Time

In what may have been record time for cutting government red tape, Bertetta and Green spent a busy five days pleading their case before top-ranking officials of the government agency. Both men flew to Washington November 4, and in less than a week had scored a victory.

Permission Granted

Permission to construct the building was granted by William Harrison, administrator for the production authority. His decision came three days after arguments were presented.

"We have the distinction of being the first city to obtain special consideration by the Board," Green said today.

With the go-ahead from the government, the city council Monday night awarded the $298,000 contract for the building to Ralph Larson and Son of San Francisco. A few minutes later the contract was signed and Larson said he would begin work "immediately" on the center.

Completion Date

Present estimates are that the modern building will be completed about September 1, 1951. It will be located at the corner of Alp and Mission streets.

The government decided to make the exception for the building for several reasons brought forward by Bertetta and Green:

1. There is now an exceptional need for such a building where various city groups may meet for recreation and activities.

2. The population of Daly City has jumped from 10,000 to 16,000 in 10 years. Thus, there is an even greater need for the building.

3. Bonds have already been sold for the $396,000 project ($101,000 is for parks), and the city is paying interest on the bonds.

Arguments

These were but three of the many arguments that the two city officials presented. It was enough to convince the government that a community center is really needed in Daly City.

At the council meeting Monday night, councilmen went on record thanking Senators William Knowland and Sheridan Downey and Congressman Jack Z. Anderson for their help in securing the center.

HERE'S HOW TO GET ACTION IN WASH., D. C.

How do you get things done fast in Washington, D. C.?

Councilman Fred Bertetta came up with a candid answer Monday night after he and Mayor Paul Green had successfuly won the case of the community center in our nation's capital.

Digging into a coat-pocket full of business cards and various pieces of paper, the Daly City "lobbyist" produced a cross section of the "file" he had gathered on his Washington trip.

It was the names on those cards and memo sheets that had opened the key to many an official's office. In fact, Bertetta admitted, those names were greatly responsible for the success of the Washington trip.

True, there were a few distinguished titles in Bertetta's "file," but the mapority of names were of . . . . that's right, women.

"It's like this," Bertetta explained, "we had to act fast, so the quickest way to see a man was through his secretary. We did just that."

Displaying a large grin, Bertetta added that his wife was well aware of how a good "lobbyist" got things done fast in Washington, D.C.

SOAKED RESIDENTS CRY "RAIN, RAIN GO AWAY"

Looking in vain for California sunshine, Daly City residents Thursday buttoned their raincoats, fought 50 mile-an-hour winds and wondered how the weather was in Florida.

As of publishing time, Thursday noon, the sun was out in Miami and the weather man promised more rain and winds for this area lasting possibly to Saturday.

No damage was reported here from the gale, although Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy and A. J. Bodien, works superintendent, spent a cold, wet night tracing down wires that had fallen and fowled up the fire alarm system.

WHAT PRICE A CUP OF COFFEE?

The price of coffee seems to have driven the commodity to the point where it is of interest to house breakers.

At least that's the report of Mrs. Jane Winfield, 251 Wyandotte, today. She told police that sometime between 8 a.m. and 12:25 p.m. Tuesday an unidentified person entered her home through the open front door. The "gentleman" went directly to the kitchen and a few minutes later left the home without touching a thing . . . well, almost nothing.

Mrs. Winfield reports that the only item missing was eight teaspoonfuls of coffee used for a pot of the brew which the house breaker had cooked up in his brief stay.

HOW IT LOOKS FROM A CORNER

Collecting History

Historically Daly City has as much claim to fame as its sister San Francisco. However, due to neglect and the trend of thought that this city is the "bedroom" of the Bay area, not much has been done to preserve many historic items.

About a year ago we introduced this idea and were reminded by another newspaper that the Daly City Record should have recorded enough of the history of this community for the average individual.

However, A. J. Bodien, stalwart of city government and politics, has other ideas. He went all out this week for appointing an official city historian (not himself) to gather together all the material which records the story of this community both before and after

City Considers Continuation Of Rent Controls

Whether or not rent controls will end in Daly City December 31 now rests with the city council.

Under federal law all rental units will be decontrolled December 31 unless the city sees fit to continue rent ceilings until June 31, 1951.

The council has twice indicated it would pass a resolution continuing the controls, but each time falied to bring it up at the council meetings.

No Voice Heard

Councilman Jim Kennedy reports that the council is holding off any action until it hears from both the landlords and the tenants.

"To date we have not heard from either group. In fact, little or no interest seems to be shown in rent controls," Kennedy said.

Meanwhile, in other northern San Mateo county cities the rent controls have been abolished.

Kennedy speculated that perhaps there are not enough rental units in Daly City to warrant any great amount of interest.

At any rate he called on interested parties to speak up before the next council meeting November 20.

Pending Court Cases Of Interest

Two cases of interest to Daly City residents are now pending in the San Mateo county superior courts.

The first concerns the case of Daly City vs. The Ocean Shore Railroad. Last Friday the railroad requested Judge Murray Draper raise the amount of the city's deposit for a new street in Westlake from $2,700 to a much larger sum.

This deposit will be part payment to the rightful owner of the controversial 60 foot wide strip of land which is claimed by both the Railroad and Henry Doelger, Westlake builder. (The trial to determine rightful ownership is due to open in superior court November 20.)

Motion Made

The motion to raise the amount of the deposit is seen by the city as an effort by the railroad to delay as long as possible actual work on the strip of Westlake land.

As it stands now the Railroad has an injunction forbiding Doelger to cross the strip. The city's condemnation of the land will "revoke" the injunction.

Judge Draper is expected to render a decision on the railroad's plea sometime later this week.

Smith Case

Meanwhile, Judge L. R. Avilla is considering the plea of H. H. Smith Sr. for a new trial in the "quarry" case. Smith claims that an earlier court decision to pay him $4,465 for the strip of quarry land to be used by the city to extend Brunswick street to Hillside boulevard is unfair.

A decision on the motion for new trial is expected later this week.

SM County TB Christmas Seals Go On Sale Monday

Faced by its greatest and biggest job in San Mateo County history, the County Tuberculosis and Health Association will begin its annual Christmas seal sale on next Monday.

Householders and citizens throughout the county will receive the familiar, traditional Christmas tokens through the mail.

"The tremendous growth of our county and every one of its cities and communities has increased the local task of fighting tuberculosis in similar ratio," declared Bradford M. Melvin, General Chairman of the Christmas seal sale.

More TB Now

"Analysis of the work done by the free x-ray program and case finding service during the current year shows that there is more tuberculosis, particularly among adults, in our county than during recent years.

"This is warning of danger that tells us our past efforts must be redoubled if we are to achieve ultimate victory in stamping out this worst of diseases. Our every service must be expanded if we are to hold our own and not lose the progress we have already made," Melvin said.

Aides of the association say that they are loath to overdramatize current needs, but that the first case of bone tuberculosis in this county for many years has been uncovered within the past month, and that the adult case finding program has developed the unpleasant fact that there is more adult tuberculosis in the county than had been suspected.

More Money Needed

The year of 1951, they anticipate, wil present difficulties in the fight against Tuberculosis that may be partially relieved late in the year when the new $1,750,000

WESTLAKE MAN DESCRIBES ACTION WITH FIRST CAVALRY IN KOREA

Army "Jailbirds" Make Name For Themselves On Battlefield

WITH THE FIRST CAVALRY DIVISION IN KOREA.—Forty men, outcast, military incorrigibles released from an army prison in Japan shortly after the outbreak of the Korean War, won honor and respect for themselves and their units on the field of battle.

One hot, sultry afternoon, late in July, these men reported to 1st Cavalry Division Headquarters, then in Kumchon. They were a seedy looking lot, hungry and tired from the long truck ride. None of the officers in the headquarters had much faith in their ability to soldier and little attention was paid to the men. They would eventually be broken down and sent to various companies in the division. It would have been considered foolish to assign these men as a group to any one unit.

Urgent Call

Then, just a few hours after their arrival, an urgent call for troops came from the division headquarters company. Enemy infiltration placed the division's advanced command post in eminent danger. Additional men were needed to protect the command post and this disgraced group of men was all that was available. They were placed on trucks and

Parking Meters Going In Here

The first of some 350 parking meters were being installed this week in the main business section of Daly City.

Orrin Wendling, city administrator, said the job of putting in the meters should be completed by late this month. The meters will be located on "top of the hill," on most adjoining streets and sections of Mission in the Market street area.

When the meters have been installed, all angle parking will be outlawed in favor of parallel parking. Adequate space is to be provided so that a car may be parked easily in the meter area.

THREE ACT COMEDY, "STAGE DOOR" OPENS FRIDAY NIGHT AT JEFF HIGH

Tickets Still Available For All Star Production

"Stage Door," a laugh-filled three act comedy, will be presented by Jefferson Union High school in the High School Auditorium tonight, Nov. 17, at 8:15 p.m.

Miss Eunice Seaton is directing the play and Jean London is her student director. Mr. Durant Moseley and his stage crew are building the stage set and handling the lighting and Miss Barbara Schmidt with Shirley McIntyre is in charge of costumes. Mr. Stevens' dance band will furnish intermission music.

The play concerns a group of young girls who have come to New York to study acting and find jobs. The scene is Mrs. Orcutt's boarding-house and the central plot has to do with courageous Terry Randall, who fights against discouragement to a position in the theatre where we are sure she will conquer. One of her fellow-aspirants gives up in despair; one gets married, and one goes into pictures, but Terry, with the help of idealistic David Kingsley, sticks to her guns. Color and contrast are offered to the scenes involving the young women by the characters of Mattie, the maid; Mrs. Orcutt, the elderly actress whose days are over; a few young men callers, a movie magnate and young Keith Burgess, the playwright who "goes Hollywood."

Terry Randall will be played by Mary Lou Morris and David Kingsley by Al Johnson while the part of the playwright, Keith Burgess, will be taken by Ken Willbanks.

Lorraine Cady will be Mrs. Orcutt and Gloria Watkins, her maid, Mattie, and Ario Gregori will be Mattie's husband, Frank.

Among the girls in the house are Bernice, the talkative one played by Virda Walker; the sarcastic Judith played by Sharon Girard; Jean who succumbs to the glamour of Hollywood, played by Cecilia Sullivan; Big and Little Mary, played by Beverly Bendinelli and Nancy Banfield; and the prudish Ann, played by Marcia Golden.

Jean Reagen will take the part of the cute little southern "dish," Bobby, and Elissa Marquez will play Kaye who gives up in despair. The part of Olga, the pianist, will be taken by Gayle Broome while Verna Weston will do Louise, the girl who gets married and Jean Brandt will be seen as Pat, the night-club dancer. Other girls in the house are Linda played by Ann Shoots, Susan by Mary Ann Bass, Kendall by Pat Fawcett and Madeleine by Jo Ann Breckon.

Frank Garcia as Sam Hastings comes to the club to call on Bobby, Ronald Quint as Dr. Randall comes to the club to see his daughter and Gary Larson as Adolph Gretzl comes to the club to find a new movie star.

Other members of the cast are, Joan de Vore, Janice Sproule, Gary McFall, Don Benando, Charles Bublack, Joyce Owenby, Jim Hatchel and John Dennis.

Tickets may be purchased at the door.

UNBEATEN CO-LEADERS COLLIDE ON JEFFERSON FIELD AT 2:45 P. M.

High-Scoring Vikings Test Single-Wing Tribe In Northern California's Top Prep Attraction

By ROY HURLBERT

Northern California prepdom's biggest game comes off this afternoon when the two unbeaten giants of the Peninsula Athletic League, Palo Alto and Jefferson, meet head on in a dream game which means the league championship.

The setting is ideal for the near climax to the 1950 PAL season in the contest which starts at 2:45 on the Jefferson Field.

Unbeaten Pair

Both Hod Ray's and Glenn South's youngsters come into the big one with untarnished records. The visiting Vikings have rambled through seven opponents without so much as a scare. The Jefferson Tribe has rolled over six foes without a setback.

Today the storm that has been gathering for the past two months figures to disrupt all over the place.

Jefferson and Palo Alto are deadlocked in first place with a 5-0 record and today's winner should coast in after this one.

The Vikings face Sequoia next week and then finish at home against San Mateo. Neither club figures to stop the Norsemen if they get by the Daly City eleven today

Paly Favored

Jefferson, on the other hand, could win in a walk if they upset Paly this afternoon. Their remaining opponents are South City and Lincoln, both at home and nothing to worry about.

As in every game, there has to be a favorite. And the Vikings must be conceded the top dog role.

Their record can't be overlooked. And it is—terrific.

The Vikings, one of the few high school teams using the platoon system, have bowled over every team they've met and are regarded as one of the top five high school aggregations in the entire Northern California area.

Palo Alto has averaged a colossal 38.2 point per game along this route: Palo Alto 35 Salinas 6, PA 25 South S.F. 12, PA 44, Willow Glen 0, PA 37 Lincoln (S.J.) 7, PA 35 Lincoln (SF) 19, PA 52 Burlingame 0, PA 40 San Jose 7.

Jeffs Average 21 Per

Jefferson hasn't been so nasty. The Tribe has plodded along from week to week, beating their opponents as they come, in steady, deliberate fashion.

The local single-wing club has averaged 21.6 points per contest in polishing off: Mountain View 20-9, Sequoia, 25-0, San Jose, 20-13, Burlingame, 25-7, Willow Glen, 14-6, and San Mateo, 26-14.

On a comparison of like opponents, the T formation Norsemen rate a decided edge. They had no cause for concern against Willow Glen, Burlingame or San Jose, while Jefferson knew they were in a ball game against all three.

TOYLAND NURSERY SITE OBJECTIONS HEARD BY COUNCIL

Decision Held Up Until Next Monday

Is it possible to find a nursery school site in Daly City where there will be no objection from neighbors?

That is the question the Daly City council is seeking to answer this week after councilmen postponed a decision on the proposed new site of the Toyland Nursery school until Monday evening, November 20. The school has applied to the city for a use permit to house approximately 30 children, ages 2 to 5, during the day in the American Legion Hall, 174 San Diego.

Hearing Held

At a public hearing Monday night, four residents adjoining the Hall sounded strong objections to the proposed new site. They based their protests on the contention that the school will constitute a "general nuisance" and will disturb the peace.

Counteracting these objections was a petition submitted by Mrs. Grace Wilson, manager of the school. The petition was signed by 10 persons in the area of the Hall who said they would not object to the nursery site. Another nine residents of the original 15 who signed a petition late last month against the site, withdrew their objections.

Many Apply

Mrs. Wilson also presented a list of some 30 residents in the area who have made application to her for putting their children in the proposed new school.

"One of these applicants recently learned that her husband was killed in Korea. Ten others need to work because their husbands are in the army. They can't seek employment until they have placed their children in a home during the day," Mrs. Wilson asserted.

At this point one of the residents objecting to the Legion Hall site said he was certainly not against nursery schols, but he was opposed to one right next door.

Following further discussion, Mayor Green noted:

One Vote Enough

"After all the nursery school is a commercial enterprise. Consequently residents in the area should be given a full opportunity to object. If there is one valid protest, this should be enough to stop the nursery from using the

Silver Moon Tavern Robbers Captured

Three youthful bandits who held up the Silver Moon Tavern, 212 School street, October 10 and escaped with $202 are in jail today following their capture in Martinez early Wednesday morning.

Advised of their arrest by Contra Costa Deputy Sheriff Norman Wilson, Daly City police immediately put a "hold" on the three youths. Sheriff Wilson said they admitted the Daly City job as well as a series of eight similar armed robberies in Sacramento, Stockton and other California cities.

In custody are: Rober Post, 19, Ken Sporgon, 16, and Charles Stewart, 16, all of Martinez. They are to be questioned by Daly City police today.

According to Sheriff Wilson, Post said he held a gun on Silver Moon Tavern bartender Gino Giovachino's cash register and wallet, as well as the wallet of the customers. They made their escape in a car driven by the third 16-year-old.

THANKSGIVING

The average mortal rarely has things just as he would like them. Human life is made up of some good experiences and some which are not so good. If he learns to appreciate the good and to minimize in so far as he can the bad his life is a relatively happy one.

Wasn't this what the Pilgrims did in observing their first Thanksgiving? Their world was not a completely happy one nor by any means completely safe. Their struggle for existence was bitter. And yet in spite of all this they had learned to be thankful for every least bit of good which they experienced. The bounty of their crops brought the spontaneous desire to set aside a day for prayerful thanksgiving.

Their experiences and ours today are not without parallel. We face grave dangers. Many of our loved ones are enduring hardships on the battlefront. Our economic problems are sorely trying.. Our efforts to maintain a peaceful world meet with varying success. Yet our nation as a whole is still well fed, well clothed, and relatively well housed. We enjoy freedom of religion, of speech, of assembly—privileges which in much of the world are nonexistent.

Should we not be grateful for these advantages, these good things which have been bestowed upon us? Should we not make Thanksgiving Day an occasion not only for public worship, but for the inner contemplation of all that will help to make us better men and women and thus help to build a better world?

There is no doubt that we should.

"EXPLAINING" MURDER

One of the most unsatisfactory and distressing phases of the United Nations' operations is the snail pace they sometimes assume in moments of crisis.

At this writing the U.N. diplomats are awaiting a response from Red China to the "invitation" to "explain" the presence of Communist troops in North Korea. The activities of the Reds in this area have cost many an American soldier his life. In spite of this we are not permitted to bomb Manchurian bases from which the Reds operate.

However, if we want world support—and this is vitally essential—we must string along with the U.N. in spite of disturbing delays. Then too, the extreme caution of the diplomats is aimed at preventing a third world war. Patience at this time may be the better part of valor.

SENATE BALANCE

The Democratic edge of 49 to 47 in the Senate (the recount in Connecticut may throw it into a 48 to 48 tie) means that control of the upper House could change at almost any time. For instance the death or resignation of any Democratic Senator from one of the numerous states which now have Republican governors would undoubtedly result in the appointment of a Republican to fill his place. Nine Democratic Senators now represent seven states in which Republicans have just replaced Democratic governors. Included in these are Connecticut, New Mexico, Arizona, Maryland, Colorado and Nevada. Should the recount in Connecticut create a 48 to 48 tie in the Senate it would produce a situation which has not existed for the past 70 years. The question is whether or not the president of the Senate— Vice President Barkley, a Democrat—could use his vote to give the Democrats control of the Committees. It is said that back in 1880 the two parties got together and divided the chairmanship. This would seem to be the logical procedure at this time in the event of a tie.

Legion hall."

Taking an opposite view to the mayor's declaration, Councilman Jim Kennedy said:

"I believe we should grant a permit now, and without any clauses." (Earlier it was mentioned the permit might be granted with the provision it could be revoked in a year if residents still objected.)

Aware of the need of a nursery school, the council said it would seek a "better site" and report on its findings at the meeting Monday night.

Sanitation District

Only other important business at the council meeting Monday night was to pass a resolution including Daly City and Colma in the new North San Mateo county sanitation district. This is the first step in a program to find some other method than the ocean for the disposal of waste.

Through widening the sanitation district base it will be possible at a future date to build a sewage treatment plant at a lower tax rate per each individual in the sanitation district.

county Tuberculosis hospital is completed.

In addition, the Association has found it necessary to resume its former war-time activity with aid to prospective service men and women, and to veterans, on full scale operation.

In its regular field the Association had planned to cut down its free x-ray program in schools in order to enlarge this service in the adult field, but the demand for school examinations has continued to grow and the x-ray programming for adults has pressed this phase of Tuberculosis case-finding and prevention to a point well past previous records.

Added Service

Another service started during the year has been the provision of motion pictures for hospital and sanitarium patients and this has been received with gratitude by patients who are otherwise deprived of normal entertainments.

Other work of the Association includes co-operation with the Howard Foundation for children, with the National and local Heart Associations, with the National Tuberculosis Association, the State Association and local physicians and surgeons. An extensive program of post-graduate lectures by specialists in chest diseases is being provided for the medical men.

Aids All

Assistance to all persons in the county who are stricken by Tuberculosis rounds out the rest of the Association activities of health education and case finding.

No other source of income except the sale of the traditional Christmas seals supports the Association and no other appeals for funds are made. Nation Association policy prevents the local Association from participating in the funds collected by the Community Chest.

Dave Hansen Receives Purple Heart In Japan

David Hansen, 57 Garwood drive, on leave from the Daly City police department with the U. S. Marines, received the Purple Heart last week for wounds he suffered on the Korean front.

The popular police officer was awarded the medal by Lt. General Shepherd in the naval hospital at Yokusuka, Japan.

Hansen suffered his wounds at the Inchon landing September 15. However, he remained on the battle field for five more days before he was evacuated. His family does not know what type of wound he suffered, although Hansen shrugged it off as a "sprained ankle."

In a letter to his family Hansen said he would soon be returning to the Korean front.

Westlake Man Describes Action In Korea

once again started forward, now ready for battle.

One of the men from the group, an ex-platoon Sergeant, was placed in charge of them. He was told to take his men and move to a hill north of the command post and hold the ground.

"At first it was a little hard to control the men," said the new platoon sergeant, "they all wanted to go after the enemy. Several small bands of enemy troops moved about in front of us and the men insisted on firing at them."

For two and a half days, the men stayed on the hill, nursing what little water and food they had, and having what WOJG Milton E. Brock, Houston, Texas, described as "the time of their lives."

Good Outfit

Said Mr. Brock of the group, "they were a fine fighting outfit. I worked closely with them for a time and could find no fault with their courage or aggressiveness. They were the kind of men you would like to have a division full of when going into combat."

When the division withdrew a few days later the men were taken as a part of the headquarters defense platoon. Their duties became somewhat routine, consisting of guard, shotgun riding for vehicles and occasional patroling for which all the men volunteered.

With the passing of the immediate danger from infiltration, it was decided to release most of the men and send them to rifle companies where troops were desperately needed. At this decision, Lt. Col. John P. Powhida, Philadelphia Pa., officer in charge of curtailing infiltration and checking refugees passing through the division lines, remarked, "you can take the rest of the defense platoon and do what you want but I want these men. They get a job done and aren't afraid of anything."

The men were retained in the defense platoon for a short time longer but they began to get restless over the lack of action and volunteered for front line units. The group was finally broken up, a few of the men being integrated into the division defense platoon and the rest going to the different regiments of the division.

Platoon Leader

One of the men, serving with the 8th Calvalry Regiment, was placed in charge of a platoon. Later when leading his platoon in a counterattack against the enemy dug in along the Naktong River, he was shot five times in the body and legs. About half way up the hill, the first enemy bullet found its mark hitting him in the side. He continued to advance pausing only long enough to apply a bandage to the wound. After moving a few yards further, an enemy machine gun opened up and four more bullets found their way into his body. Though out of action himself, he continued to shout encouragement to his advancing platoon. The platoon, less the wounded sergeant, drove the enemy from the hill and secured the objective.

Capt. Lloyd Deerinwater, El Paso, Texas, commanding the company at the time said, "Smitty was a darn good man. I sent him on several patrols knowing that he would either get the information needed or not return. He was always ready for a dangerous assignment and seemed to thrive on such assignments."

On Defense

While the division was holding defensive positions around Taegu, one of the group, then assigned to a rifle company of the 7th Cavalry, boastfully stated that he could hit an enemy target about 750 yards distance with his M-1 rifle. The platoon leader, 1st Lt. Albert R. Moses, Houston, Texas, told him to go ahead and try. The men fired and the enemy soldier dropped and the cocky American turned to Lt. Moses with the remark, "see, nothing to it."

The Lt. just laughed and answered, "you just scared the man, you couldn't possibly hit him at that range."

At that the rifleman started out into "no-man's land" to retreive the enemy soldier and prove his point. "Had I not ordered him back," said Lt. Moses, "he would have gone out there and most likely gotten himself shot."

One of the men, twice winner of the Silver Star for gallantry in action, refused to be taken from the battle front. His right eye had become infected and he was evacuated to the division clearing company, then to the army evacuation hospital in Pusan. The doctor in Pusan told him that it would be necesary to send him to Japan for an operation which would require several weeks to heel. The man went AWOL from the hospital and returned to his unit. When questioned as to why he didn't want to undergo the operation, he said, "the eye will be there a long time, but this war might end any day and if I went back I would miss all the fighting. I'll have the eye taken care of when this is all over and I can enjoy a long rest in the hospital."

Capt. John E. Bircher, Philadelphia, Pa., commanding officer of the division's replacement company has handled all of the men and knows most of them personally. "They all came through the company when arriving in Korea," said Capt. Bircher. "Some of them have been back since, returning from the hospital. Each one seemed anxious to return to the fighting. They have settled down a lot since they first arrived in Korea, but they still have that fighting spirit which has made them so popular with many of the division's company commanders."

pionship statute like a teen-ager approaching manhood. Palo Alto apparently "had it" when the season opened.

Observers declare the Vikings have a keenly balanced attack. They'll give weight to Jefferson today up front, but they make up for it with advantages of speed and numbers.

South's forward wall, considerably heavy for high school, will go at 188 pounds. The Viking offensive line scales 183. Defensively, the Vikings weigh in with a unit average of 171.

Palo Alto is blessed with reserves, plenty of them. Jefferson's first 11 men don't expect to get much rest today.

Speed To Spare

The Norsemen offensive is a combination of effective passing and breakaway running. Scatbacks Jim Farrell and Loren Sorenson are two of the fastest carriers in the league. Farrell has ten touchdowns in five circuit games to lead in the scoring department.

Quarterback Bob Pederson, a little guy, is a first class passer, fake artist and field general. He has completed 11 touchdown passes against PAL teams and his mark is 32 completions in 58 attempts.

One of his steady targets, besides his fast halfbacks, is end Merle Flattley, All-PAL last season and a great all-around football player. Flattley punts, passes, kicks off, and even takes an occasional end-around stroll.

Power running is supplied by senior fullback Jack Butler.

Line standouts are guard Bob Armstrong, a sprinter like Sorensen, and big Bob McDowell, senior center and linebacker. McDowell, Sorenson, and Farrell, do double duty on offense and defense.

Up To Indian Line

Whether or not Jefferson can wipe out Palo Alto's edge of offensive and defensive speed, depth, and balance is questionable.

At any rate, Jefferson's aggressive and huge line will decide the issue. To date, they have demonstrated top class as a veritable road block. Pat McCool, Vic Baher, Richard Harrison, Mansel Roland, Dave Cafferata, Hal Hazen, Bob Lagomarsina, and Pete Koperak have their work cut out for them.

Max Kliem, Ray Tschirgi, Jack Wilson, and Ray Espinoza will patrol the greensward farther back on defense. Passing has bothered the Tribe all year, and it's now or never for them to have a defense ready for it.

Big Three Ready

The Indians can go places with the ball. Bobby Gallagher, workhouse left halfback is second to no ball carrier in the league. He's not the fastest man around, but his drive and determination make him a constant threat.

Although Jefferson isn't a passing team, they may take to the skies today.

Last week Gallagher showed what the Indians could do via passing with 10 completions in 13 tries and two touchdowns. All season, the boy who wears number 44 has thrown 51 passes with 27 completions for a very respectable 520 percentage.

Max Kliem and Ray Tschirgi, both hard runners, round out the Tribes' offensive trio. Tschirgi does the plunging when required, while Gallagher and Kliem do most of their traveling at the ends and off the tackles.

South Foresees Victory

Coach South is optimistic for a change and is "high" on his boys' chances. Unlike Palo Alto, the Indians weren't considered title timber when the season began. South foretold the things to come then with the declaration that his present line was the best he's ever coached. Harrison, Kliem, and Wilson were his only veterans, but the rest of the Indians developed ahead of schedule. South and his assistant Clarence Lair really have come up with an amazing effort.

Of today's clash South prophesied:

"I think we can beat Palo Alto if we play the kind of ball we are capable of. They have excessive speed, great depth, and good balance passing and running. Sure, we'll have to be sharp, but my boys have come through before.

"We are physically fit with all hands ready and willing. Palo Alto's reputation has scared her opponents to the point of fright. But we aren't going to let them bother us before the kickoff."

Lair scouted the Vikings Friday in San Jose. He allowed they are a very sound, well-coached, and always threatening football team.

A capacity crowd is expected for the game and to accomodate more, Jefferson is renting 750 additional bleacher seats.

incorporation.

"I think this would make an interesting exhibit for the new community center building."

We're inclined to agree with Bodien, as are the majority of councilmen.

Therefore, this week we request that if you have old pictures, memos, news items, magazines etc. which are reminders of Daly City's past, bring them either to the Daly City Record office, or to the office of Bodien in city hall.

If enough interest is shown in this project, chances are a permanent exhibit will be prepared next year for the main hall in the community center building.

S.O.B.

Not too long ago President Truman used the angle saxon term SOB with some vehemence to describe a certain gent not too popular with his regime. Since then the term has been accepted to describe other men and measures in Washington, D. C.

This week Councilman Fred Bertetta, back from the nation's capital, also had SOB on the tip of his tongue and on several cards. Asked for an explanation, Bertetta gave a new twist to the three letters:

'Oh, that's nothing but an abbreviation for the Senate Office Building."

Men And Books

Possibly one of the most entertaining books to come our way in a long time is the recently published London Journals of James Boswell. As you will remember, Boswell wrote the first, and probably the best biography . . . The Life of Samuel Johnson.

Now 200 years after his death comes the first of 45 books to be published in which are enclosed Boswell's intimate journals of London from 1762 to 1763. While this type of reading may frighten away the majority of readers, it acually is about the most candid and amusing work to be published in this country in many a year.

Boswell had the knack of writing frankly and openly about everything from the price of a bit of silk to church services to his many amours. This frankness, coupled with an engaging style, makes the best selling historical novels such as "Forever Amber" and "Kitty" look like pale reflections of actual London life.

We heartily recommend Boswell's Journals to anyone with a love of adventure, a sense of humor, a historical curiosity and a joy of life.

EEL RIVER NAMED

Eeel River, located in northern California, is reported by the National Automobile Club, to have received its name in 1850 when Dr. Josiah Gregg's exploring party were starving along its banks and they met two Indians who traded them some eels for a broken frying pan.

Former Students

This Friday former students of the college are invited to visit the three campuses, attend the dinner that evening in the Coyote Point cafeteria, see the game that night with the Monterey Peninsula College grid squad at the Burlingame field, and then attend the dance in the Baldwin gym.

This will make a busy day and evening for the former students. Present students are also to be busy. They have arranged a parade for Friday afternoon before the dinner, and school groups are now making floats for the parade which will go through the streets of San Mateo and Burlingame.

Reservations

Reservations for the dinner have been coming in rapidly from alumni, and indications are that many of the former students will be present at the dinner, game and dance.

A sprinkler system last Thursday evening possibly saved King's Market on Junipero Serra boulevard from another disasterous fire.

A. J. Bodien, assistant fire chief, reported that at 11:05 p.m. the alarm went off at the market. A few minutes later firemen arrived to find that someone had left a carton of potatoe chips on a stove over the pilot light. The gas had ignited the carton, but before the fire could spread a sprinkler overhead doused the blaze.

Although there was no fire when blaze busters arrived, there was plenty of water. They spent a good half-hour mopping out the back of the market, Bodien said.

WESTLAKE WHIRL

by Marian Christians PLaza 5-0946

Westlake residents had their water cut off briefly Wednesday morning for reasons still unknown. They were without water for a half hour period.

The regular annual meeting of the Westlake Improvement Association will convene at Jefferson Union High School December 4. At the session, five members will be elected to the board of directors for the coming year. Starting time for the meeting is 8 p.m. Members are urged to come early to facilitate the distribution of ballots.

Charlie Becker was appointed to serve as chairman of a nominating committee in a recent meeting of the current board of directors.

How is Harry Bosberry? Friends are happy to report the gentleman is on the road to recovery following hospitalization.

He is still confined to his home at 124 Westlawn.

Present plans are such that Westlake will soon have a Lutheran Church. So reports Pastor Max Zschiegner. Right now, services are held each Sunday at 11 a.m. at the Broadmoor Community Recreation Center. Sunday school for the kiddies begins at 9:45.

Joseph Verducci, 118 Wilshire avenue, won't be home for Thanksgiving. He's playing hookey with his San Francisco State College Gators who will be in Medford, Oregon for a "Pear Bowl" football game with Lewis and Clark College of Portland. The Portlanders are unbeaten and untied and are one of the best minor college elevens on the coast. Verducci's Gators recently took the Far West Conference championship and their only loss was to Whittier, 41-20.

Bids Called on School

Work will begin on the new $628,184 Westlake school late in December or early in January, James Snell, superintendent of schools, said today.

He based this announcement on the school board's calling for bids on the job. These bids are to be opened December 14, and if all goes well, work will start on the school shortly after.

The school, which will be located in the heart of Westlake, will have 12 classrooms, two kindergartens and facilities to handle children from kindergarten through the sixth grade.

This is the first of six schools to be built or remodeled under the close to $3 million bond issue passed by voters last September.

Snell expects the Westlake school to be open for "business" by the fall session of 1951.

BASIC SPEED LAW

California's basic speed law requires that speed must be governed by prevailing conditions, such as visibility, traffic volume, condition of the highway, and other factors, the California State Automobile Association points out. At night, in fog or rain, a speed of 30 miles per hour may be too fast and in violation of the basic speed law.

By Isabella Liberti

At this time of the year, The Mothers' Club of Our Lady of Perpetual Help School is buzzing with activity. In addition to the regular afternoon whists and their large night Turkey whist, the members are completing arrangements for their annual Bazaar.

NEW $75,000 GRACE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH TO OPEN THIS SUNDAY

Seven-Year Dream Becomes A Reality

It took almost seven years, but this Sunday the dream of a new Grace Presbyterian church will become a reality for The Rev. William Harberts and his congregation.

At 11 o'clock Sunday the $75,000 sanctuary and fellowship hall on the corner of Crocker and Winchester streets will be ready for occupancy. Although services are to be held in the new church, the real dedication ceremonies won't be celebrated until Sunday, December 17.

Rev. Harberts and his congregation have been working for a new church since he came here seven years ago. For the past five years this work has taken active shape both in funds and considerable volunteer labor.

Modern Colonial

The church is designed in the modern colonial, boasting a 70 foot spire topped by a beautiful celtic cross.

With a seating capacity of 350, the sanctuary and hall represent the first unit of the entire church. The educational unit is to be built at a later date.

Donald Pomers Smith of San Francisco was the architect; Joel Johnson and Son, contractors; Tromborg and Son, plumbers; Hilltop Paint company, paint; and Delatoni Electric company, electrical work.

Labor Volunteered

Much of the labor was done by the congregation under the supervision of William C. Hassett.

The public is cordially invited to attend the first services in the new church, as well as the special Thanksgiving service at 10 a.m. November 23.

Miss Marion Walker, choir director, has promised an unusual and beautiful program for both services.

The old church at Hanover and Evergreen has been taken over by the Assembly of God congregation.

Congregation Member Tells How Building Realized

This week a dream will come true.

Like most dreams, it was, at first, pretty nearly impossible, stemming from an irrepressible urge, but made of the gossamer of all dreams, without filament or fundamental means of realization. To most of us, who have dreamed of fame, riches and gratification of our inherent or imagined talent, our aspiration has always been for self, and to prove how great we are or can be, and maybe that is why our dreams have remained—just dreams.

This was different.

It was the dream of a living, breathing monument to God, and a benediction upon those who sought its benignity and grace.

A new church—

When Dr. Harberts came here in 1944, he had many years of service behind him in the southern part of the state, and also the east, his original charge. The cathedrals in which he preached, and the facilities available, were not the last word modern, perhaps, but in the way of the older churches, spacious and sound.

One would wonder at the decision he made, by taking a church that was undeniably old and run down, its congregation crowded into small quarters, everything in bad repair, the very frame warped and weathered by the elements. While the personal discomforts were bad enough, how did one have the courage to stimulate interest, to carry Gods influence to those who neded it, beset with frustrating details and the hopeless circumstance of limitation.

One Answer

There is of course, only one answer—an abiding hope and prayer to somehow, bring God into more lives, with the facility of a new church.

During the war years, Dr. Harberts and Mrs. Harberts, who had five sons in uniform, worked hard in the old church, and I remember that they called on me, when I first moved here, and brought me slips for the wilderness I called my garden. They planted seeds in the wilderness of many souls, and made many strangers feel welcome in an unknown community. Children of all denominations attended the small Sunday School, and the budget stretched to accomodate all the extra "little people" who attended only at Christmas and Easter.

Wishing

Contrary to the popular song "Wishing"—did not—"make it so" and no stranger to reality, Dr. Harberts rolled up his sleeves and went to work. There was discouragement all along the way, as well as an occasional boost, but he never once doubted the realization of his dream. And what is more important, he never let any one else doubt it either. His enthusiasm was contagious; bazaars, dinners, drives, collections and every honest course was pursued to raise the needed quota. This was a hearly unsurmountable task to anyone but a magician, but steadily and gradually it was achieved.

Then the work began.

Pastor Works

From that day forward Dr. Harberts hecked his title for a workmans suit. He poured cement, nailed and hammered and recruited the men and women in the congregation for volunteer labor, while his good wife and the women of the church made it interesting by providing doughnuts and coffee. These same women, not to be outdone, also painted, sanded did work of all kinds, to their everlasting credit.

Slowly it began to take shape. Every day new construction and details were developed and interwoven into the magnificence of its architecture. Out of the heterogeneous masses of steel, lumber and concrete, emerged the cathedral of a man's dream. Now at last the completion was in sight. Donations began to come in, and were generous above and beyond any expectation. No compromise was made in securing the finest materials available, as gifts to the church.

The new church will open its doors this coming Sunday.

Dr. Harberts will no doubt wear a new robe, and all will be in readiness. Everyone will show up rain or shine to participate on this great day in the first service. But to me, Dr. Harberts will never look more dignified, or appointed of God, as he did one quiet moment in the church, garbed in a paint-spattered suit, when he clasped his work-roughened hands together in a spontaneous gesture, overcome and keenly aware of the enormity of progress in faith, and said simply—"Thy Will be done."

This is the first new arithmetic process of the semester and it is being taken very slowly. More difficult multiplication and subtraction are being continued, of course.

The Seventh grade is very busy with addition, subtraction and multiplication and decimals. In Social Studies we have just finished important cities and rivers of China. We discussed Chinese art and did water color painting to illustrate the difference between their art and other kinds.

WHITMORE NAMES RC OFFICER AS DEPUTY

Although he won't take office until January 8, Sheriff-elect Earl B. Whitmore this week named two men to confidential deputy's posts.

The sheriff's office has two such non-civil service positions in the budget.

Named to the posts were: Theodore Moudakas, 32, veteran Redwood City police sergeant and Nick Zompolis who already holds the position under Sheriff James McGrath.

Whitmore said Moudakas would be assigned to criminal work and Zompolis will remain on civil work.

DC Man Almost Killed In Crash

Recovering today from an accident that almost ended in his death is David Nolan, 21, 7499 Mission street.

The Daly City driver asked for a push at Orange avenue and El Camino Real late Friday night. A friend, Jack A. Cailleaud, 24, of San Francisco obligingly shoved Nolan's car. A moment later the bumpers of the two cars locked.

The men were attempting to separate the cars when an automobile driven by Bernard D. McCabe, 35 of South San Francisco, plowed into the rear of Cailleaud's vehicle. Nolan and Cailleaud were thrown into the air, and Nolan's car was knocked 60 feet. The other two cars burst into flames.

Injured were:

Nolan with fractures of the left leg and the nose.

Cailleaud, head injuries and paralysis of the right side. He was in a critical condition.

McCabe, burns of face and legs.

Jeane Bacigalui, 21, 51 Wilson street, who was riding in Nolan's car, bump of the right knee.

Marilyn Parrick, 23, of San Francisco, who was riding in Cailleaud's car, burns of face and legs.

Sand, pumice and volcanic ash are the only abrasives produced in quantity in California.

Hall Gives Up Job. Ambition

Dropping the curtain on a life long ambition to be county superintendent of schools, Henry C. Hall, defeated candidate for the position, resigned his office this week.

Hall will step out of his job as asistant superintendent of schools effective January 8 when James R. Tormey, San Mateo Junior College educator and administrator, takes over. Tormey defeated Hall for the post by a vote of 45,412 to 35,774.

Schedule Off

Hall was scheduled to take over from Pansey Jewett Abott who retires from office January 8. However, Tormey and the voters had other ideas.

"I've spent my whole life here, hoping to become county superintendent of schools some day," Hall said. "Now I've been tossed out the window."

Hall said he had not made any plans, although he has "some offers of a job" both in the county and other places.

He said one thing was definite: "I am going back to Stanford to complete my doctorate in education. I have about a semester to go."

Hall has held the post of superintendent of schools for six years. Prior to that he was superintendent of schools in San Bruno for 22 years, and principal of the Half Moon Bay elementary school for six years.

Thanksgiving Day Services Slated

Friends and neighbors of the congregation are invited to attend the informal "Bible Hour" held every Sunday evening at 7:30, when Pastor Konzelman reviews in detail the life of St. Paul—this Sunday evening's study on the "Second Coming of Christ" is taken from I & II Thessalonians.

Savings Save Santa Financial Headaches

Santa Claus won't have much financial trouble in Daly City this year.

According to a report from bank managers, close to $1,000,000 will be paid out within the next few days to residents of Daly City, Colma, Broadmoor and other northern San Mateo county communities. The money is from the Christmas Savings clubs.

This represents an all time high in the area, banks said.

Increases in localities run from 2.7 per cent to 10 per cent over the past year, both in number of depositors and size of deposits. The average Christmas check will be for $100.

County Defense Aired At Nov. 30 Meeting

San Mateo county civilian defense will come under full scrutiny at a city-county wide meeting November 30 in the courthouse at Redwood City.

All mayors in the county, or their representatives have been invited to attend the meeting, Edward R. McDonald, head of a three-member supervisors committee on civilian defense, said today.

One of the most important decisions to be made is whether a county director of civilian defense should be hired or appointed.

CHANGE OIL THOROUGHLY

If you are one of those motorists who buy crankcase oil in bulk, don't allow haste to spoil the effect of changing your oil, advises the National Automobile Club. This is most easily done by not allowing the old oil to drain off thoroughly. The last drop, it should be borne in mind, always is the dirtiest.

DINOSAUR CANYON

Dinosaur Canyon, located sixty miles north of Flagstaff in Arizona, is reported by the National Automobile Club to be flanked by immense rocks on which are to be found the tracks of dinosaurs.

New County Draft Call Announced

Daly City and northern San Mateo county will have 50 men ready for induction in December and January respectively, it was announced today.

The quota is based on a call from Washington, D.C., that 40,000 men will be needed in each month. The January call brings the total army request to 250,000 since the outbreak of war in Korea.

To supply the large November quota board 57 (north San Mateo county) sent 40 men to the service. They will leave for army camps November 24.

More than 200 San Mateo county men will be sent to the San Francisco Presidio on two dates for pre-induction physical examinations. On November 21 a total of 113 men will go from board 57 and on November 29 a total of 112 will go from board 58. From this number the anticipated 50 draftees for the December quota will be obtained.

150 Mile Auto Race Slated Soon At Meadows

An all-star field of drivers and cars looms for the 150-mile AAA National Championship auto race billed here Sunday, Nov. 26, at Bay Meadows Race Track, it was revealed today.

General Manager William P. Kyne of the San Mateo turf plant is jointly staging the speed classic with J. C. Agajanian of Los Angeles, and they're offering a $10,000 guaranteed purse against 40 per cent of net receipts to insure the nation's topflight entries.

Heading the list is Johnny Parsons of Van Nuys, winner of the rain-abbreviated Indianapolis classic, cut from its normal 500 miles to 345. Kyne and Agajanian are billing the Nov. 26 event as the "finish of the Indianapolis race," with most of the same pilots and autos due here for the first succh event in Bay Meadows history.

Another top entry considered certain is that of Walt Faulkner of Long Beach, currently leading the national driving parade with 997 digits. His average of 134.343 m.p.h. sliced al former qualifying records at Indianapolis, and he'll again tool Agajanian's No. 98 Offenhauser, the Grant Piston Ring Special.

Northern California's favorite pilot, Freddie Agabashian of Albany, winner of last year's 100-mile at Sacramento, is another ace threat. He's set to gun No. 28 Offenhauser in which he clocked the second fastest time of 132.792 m.p.h., and runs as the Wynn Friction-Proofing team with Parsons.

Others expected in the field are Paul Russo, Kenosha, Wisc., who is second to Faulkner with 928 point; Henry Banks, Compton, third at 920; Cecil Green, 4th with 810; Duke Dinsmore, Dayton, O., winer of the recent 100-milér at Sacramento; Ray Knepper, St. Louis, Mo.; Troy Ruttman, Ontario; Jack McGrath, Glendale; Tony Bettenhausen, Tinley Park, Ill.; Duke Nalon, Sherman Oaks; George Lynch, Detroit, Mich.; Chuch Stevenson, Fresno; and many others.

Tickets for the 150-miler on the one-mile dirt Bay Meadows strip have ben set at $2, $3 and $4 plus tax, and will be available daily at the track's main office in the clubhouse. Mail orders will be accepted. Rain date will be Sunday, Dec. 3.

BAYSHORE VISITACION VALLEY

By Bernice Hendryx JUniper 4-6449

School News: For several years now, Bayshore, along with hundreds of other communities, has had the problem of inadequate classrooms.

Not too long ago, the situation had reached the stage here of attempting to teach two different classes in the school auditorium at the same time, which was a nerve wracking task for the teachers. Slowly, Bayshore has increased her school facilities, until now we have twelve classrooms. Considering the four classrooms that we had such a short time ago, this sounds like we have licked the problem.

On the surface, our district has fared well, but here are a few of the facts. At the time that we only had four classrooms, we were utilizing five rooms that were put at our disposal in the Naval Project. They were used because necessity demanded it, but these rooms were not set up as regular classrooms, and having a school under two separate roofs some distance apart presents its own brand of headaches. At the present time, we are still forced to split our classrooms in much the same manner.

Enrollment Up

The number of youngsters enrolled in kindergarten continues to be larger than the number that graduate each year. As a result, the additional classrooms does not solve our problem, but merely prolongs it.

A few weeks ago, notices were sent home with the school children, asking parents to fill in employment information from the year of 1943 to the present time. This information, which would total the number of years that parents worked directly for the government, or worked for private enterprise with government contracts, may lead to a new school for Bayshore.

A suitable site, with the required number of acres, must be found before things go forward. We have been informed that several sites have been considered. Among them is an area, just above the Naval Project. While there is no definite information available, popular opinion is that this may eventually become the site of the new Bayshore Elementary School, if and when the Federal Government issues the money for same.

Pack Meeting

A large number of parents turned out for the Pack Meeting of Cub Scouts last week, which is very heartening. The parents are the ones that actually sit in judgment of the awards given to the Cubs, and it is a requirement that parents attend these meetings. It is a definite boost, both to the moral of the youngsters and the men and women that give their time to this work, to see interest shown on the part of the parents. Refreshment committees, entertainment committees and attendance committees have been set up with great enthusiasm by the Cubs for these meetings that are held once a month at the Bayshore School Auditorium. At the last meeting, four of the Cubs graduated into Boy Scouts. At the present time there are some forty odd Cubs in the valley.

Nine Boy Scouts went on a hike last week to Camp Lilianthal for an all night outing. Our Boy Scouts belong to the McClaren district, and they received a special award at the outing for the neatness of their tent set ups and their cleaning of their own sites. Some five hundred Scouts from this whole Bay area made the outing, and wonder of wonders, it was reported that there were no accidents or injuries in the entire group. Five hundred boys and no injuries? Wha hoppened?

Accidents

Be Careful Dept: Here's one of those nasty household accidents that we hear about all the time, but that we know never will happen to us. Byron Joslin, of 447 Oriente, slipped on the bathtub last week and broke a joint in his foot. Doesn't sound like much, but Byron will wear a cast for the next six or eight weeks. Tough going, Byron, and proving once more that it can happen to us.

The topic Sunday morning at the Bayshore Baptist Church will be "Gospel Effects." Sunday evening they will have a guest. Carleton Null, originator of the Gospel Bombs will show pictures of various phases of that work. The bombs have been tracts that have been put in bottles, attached to ballons, etc., and released. Bicycle brigades have been formed in neighborhoods, and tracts distributed in this manner.

Wednesday evening, Nov. 22, the church will have a Thanksgiving Prayer Meeting at 7:30. Everyone is invited to attend this Seasonal meeting.

Shower

A stork shower was given for Mrs. Joy Mathers in the Naval Project. Some ten ladies were present as well-wishers.

Girl Scout leaders from this area went on a cook-out last Wednesday in South San Francisco. Girl Scouts themselves take part in these cook-outs, and this outing in particular was a sort of classroom for the leaders, showing them management of their own group cook-outs, where the girls must prepare a complete meal for themselves over an open fire.

The Girl Scouts themselves are making bibs for an Infant Shelter. This is one way that the girls earn their merits in Scouts.

"Record" Reminiscence

10 Years Ago In The RECORD

Residents of Templeton avenue do not appreciate bullets flying around their ears. So, Stanley Joseph Nielsen, 507 Capps street, will have to practice his shooting some place else. A call to the Daly City police department on Sunday afternoon that the 20 year old marksman was practicing with a .22 rifle on a hill in the Templeton area.

Robbed of nearly $2,000 worth of jewels and furs between South San Francisco and Colma, Mrs. M. Harris, 655 Hyde street, early Monday evening reported a daring highway theft to Daly City police officers.

Mrs. Harris was returning home in her car from the races, she said, when an unknown man crowded her over to the edge of the road, got out of his own car, and demanded that she "fork over." He escaped with a $1,000 diamond ring, a $400 silver fox coat, a $300 diamond wrist watch, $60 in jewelry, and other rings valued at $425.

Mrs. Bert Meritt, 244 Hillside boulevard, returned home from Mary's Help Hospital yesterday bringing with her a new baby daughter. The youngster, named Caroline Arden, was born November 2.

At Our Lady of Perpetual Help School, Barbara Nassano, Patty Ann Tallon, Barbara Ford, Patsy Chreisten, Barbara Jean McDonald, and Joyce Veit are leading their class a merry chase in a spelling bee.

Angelo L. Mozzini, and Ada Micheletti, both of Colma, applied for a marriage license in San Mateo county last week.

Paul N. Viola, San Francisco and Vera Bertucci, Colma, were issued a marriage license in San Mateo county last week.

Mrs. Lester Vaccari, Mrs. Dino Lagomarsino, and Mrs. Ed Bocci, honored Miss Vera Bertucci at a briday shower, Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Garibaldi, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gregorie, Mr. and Mrs. John Ferrari, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dondero, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Garibaldi attended the florists dinner dance at the St. Francisco Hotel.

Four Jefferson High school students and their advisor, Clive M. Saiz, heard California Newspaper Publisher's Association President Neal Van Sooy deliver an address on "Freedom of the Press" at Stanford University, Saturday. Ralph Matteucci, Norma Barker, June Core, and John Razzari were the local students who accompanied Advisor Saiz to Palo Alto.

Rose Bowl Bound Bears Meet USF In Saturday Tilt

California's booming Bears, not yet champions of anything, host the champions of the Bay Area independent coleges, the USF Dons, tomorrow in their ninth outing of the season.

It will be the second time that the Green and White clad Dons have set foot in Memorial stadium to do battle with the Bears. The last time was in 1943 when two wartime clubs fought it out, California taking the game by a 32-0 count.

The Dons, who would like nothing more than an upset win over the Bears, also have eight games under their belts, with the won-lost figures reading at 6-2. The losses were administered by Stanford and Fordham, neither being very representative since the Dons suffered one of the "off" days against Stanford while receipting for a 55-7 loss. Against Fordham the Dons had the ball game won, until a late second half letdown found them under a 21-14 loss.

For the Bears, it will be a search for the 33rd consecutive regular season victory, an extension of a record running back to the USC game in 1947.

In Saturday's tussle the power of the California running attack, demonstrated so thoroughly against UCLA in a 35-0 win last week for the lead in the PCC flag race, will be pitted against the breakaway threat posed by USF's outstanding fullback Ollie Matson and a host of speed-burning halves.

Another good battle could develop in the front ranks when the Bear offensive line meets the Don defensive seven. So far this season, the Don line has performed well enough to move the team into the sixth place national ranking, in rushing defense.

By holding the Santa Clara Broncos to minus two (-2) yards from scrimmage in last Sunday's battle, the Dons lowered their seasonal average to 73.1 yards allowed the opposition on the ground in the eight games played so far. The Bears rushing game that will be matched against this outstanding record was the one which chewed UCLA for 321 yards net last week in posting the Bears 22nd consecutive PCC victory.

Coach Joe Kuharich of the Dons, who concedes the Bears nothing in the battle with his fine team, won't be overlooking the passing threat he possesses in Gene Sweeters and Ed Brown. But he has been quoted as saying that the key to Don hopes lies in rushing defense.

On the Bear side, the big news is the come-uppance demonstrated by the offensive eleven against UCLA. Carried for the last several weeks by the defense, last Saturday Bears showed that opponents from here on out will also have to contend with a high-powered offense, facturing the running of John Olszewski, Pete Schabarum and Jim Monachino in addition to the well integrated passing game of Jim Marinos. Marinos, in the last two bear contests, has completed 12 out of 15 passes. The most important thing about them hasn't been the total yardage gained, but the appropriate places at which Marinos has injected them into the California attack.

SF State Gaters Await Pear Bowl; Sock Poly, 59-19

Li'l Joe Verducci's San Francisco State Gaters got a "live" game scrimmage for their Thanksgiving Day Pear Bowl engagement with a rollicking 59-19 rout of Cal Poly of San Dimas last Friday night in Cox Stadium.

The Far West Conference kingpins sputtered through the first quarter and trailed 6-0, but when they decided to roll, they did.

They tallied 21 points in the second period, 20 in the third, and 18 in the final quarter. Cal Poly landed in touchdown terrain in the second and third quarters for six points each time.

End Dick Payne and half Marv Crews scored twice for the Gaters while single td's were made by Rudy Smith, John O'Shea, Jack Caruso, Warren Aulbee, and Jack O'Connor.

Verducci cleared his bench early but still couldn't hold the count down.

Next week, the Gaters travel to Medford where they take on Lewis and Clark College of Portland in the Pear Bowl on Thanksgiving Day.

Urge Hunters To Return Leg Bands

California wildfowlers have been urged to watch for leg bands on the ducks and geese they bag this fall and to return the metal strips to the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service along with information as to when and where birds were taken.

Band numbers consist of two sets of figures, both of which are needed to identify the bird. Cooperating sportsmen are advised to record the band numbers in their letter as well as returning the flatened band itself.

In coperation with the Federal agency, the California Division of Fish and Game has banded thousands of waterfowl in recent years. Some of these bands have been returned from such places as Alaska and South Pacific islands.

Vet's Disability May Mean Money

The fact that a disability existed prior to entrance into military service does not by any means necessarily rule out a veteran's entitlement to Federal compensation if the disability was made worse as a result of that military duty, ex-servicemen are reminded by Floyd D. Granger, Veterans Service Officer, San Mateo County.

Even if the veteran signed a statement at the time of his discharge from the armed forces to the effect that his disability was not service-incurred, it has no bearing on his right to file a claim for compensation, Granger added.

"Cases of this kind keep turning up in San Mateo County," he observed. "Actually, the law is very clear on the point that if an ailment or injury was aggravated during military service, compensation is payable. The only exception applies to those disabilities which increase through the natural progress of disease."

Such cases as tuberculosis, arthritis, foot ailments, and back or joint injuries were cited as examples of disabilities which may have been aggravated by a veteran's military service. Whether it was this service or the natural progress of the ailment which caused the worsening of the veteran's condition is a mater to be determined by the Veterans Administration rating boards on the basis of evidence. Counsel as to the type of evidence required, the necessary application forms and other information on service-aggravated disabilities are available to interested veterans at the Veterans Service Office, Courthouse, Redwood City.

Sequoia Belts Jeff Frosh-Sophs

Jefferson's frosh-soph eleven receipted for their third consecutive PAL defeat last week in finishing second best to Sequoia's unbeaten Cherokees, 39-6.

The big margin is self explanatory. The visitors were just the superior football team.

Their ace halfback Bud Clark led the winning attack with two touchdown passes and a pair of conversions. On the ground, the Cherokees had maximum success with running plays.

Jefferson's lone score came in the second quarter on a 40 yard drive.

The Braves wind up their league season next Thursday when they meet the South S. F. frosh-sophs away from home.

Yesterday, Coach Joe McGrath's outfit hosted San Jose in a tussle of tail-enders. San Jose also has dropped three games. Lincoln of San Jose is the third team fighting to stay out of the cellar. The Lions have an 0-3 league slate.

OUT OF THE KITCHEN

An ordinary kitchen cleanser, the kind the housewife keeps around the sink for pots and pans, is one of the most effective agents for the removal of tar or other substance particularly hard to get off tires, declares the National Automobile Club. Mechanic's soap, which contains a mild abrasive, is another agent that may be used for the same purpose.

Think what it would mean if the leaders of all nations would choose the Bible to guide their decisions and their actions! Think what it would mean to have all people take the Scriptures into their homes and into their hearts!

For the Bible contains the guidance, the criticism, the comfort which enables us to grow continually in knowledge and richness of life. Through its teachings a country may become a great nation, leading the world to peace and freedom. To an individual the Bible can bring happiness on earth and the promise of a wonderful hereafter.

The only cure for the ignorance, superstition and prejudice of the world is the Holy Bible. In its pages we learn of the fatherhood of God, the brotherhood of man, the worth, dignity and personal responsibility to God of every individual—the pattern for daily living.

The Bible, if all nations would follow its precepts and its light, could help us preserve our civilization from dangers within and without. The Bible is the voice of a loving Father showing us the paths of righteousness and peace. Let us open our Bibles and find God!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

INDIANS BEAT SAN MATEO 26-14

Unbeaten Jeffs Display Aerial Attack In Capturing Sixth Straight Triumph

Hazen Grabs Two Touchdown Passes

By ROY HURLBERT

Unveiling a devasting pass attack for the first time, the Jefferson Indians made surprisingly easy work of San Mateo's Bearcats last Friday to run their victory string to six straight and maintain their co-leadership in the Peninsula Athletic League with Palo Alto, 26-14.

The Tribe scored early, were in full control, and demonstrated real championship form in eliminating the Bearcats from title consideration.

San Mateo's touted running attack failed to assume fearsome proportions and their two touchdowns were manufactured in the final quarter against Indian reserves. Other than this belated Bearcat rally, the visitors were never in the ball game.

Jeff Line Superb

What Jefferson's ball carriers and pass receivers didn't do to the harassed Bearcats the big Indian defensive line did.

The Indian aerial arm came into prominence as a vital striking weapon as Bob Gallagher, an All-PAL hopeful if there ever was one, pitched ten times complete in 13 attempts. His tossing was sharp and his receivers, notably Max Kliem and Hal Hazen, helped out with fine catches.

Coach Glenn South's Tribe used the airlanes twice in the first half to walk out with a 20-0 advantage. Gallagher to Hazen, a tremendous ball player Friday, was the clicking combination for two Indian scores in the second period.

Hazen—Heads Up

Early in the first quarter, Fullback Ray Tschirgi put the Daly City contingent in front with a two yard touchdown shot. The Tribe got within range some four minutes after the contest opened.

Jefferson took the inaugural kickoff and after three running plays, Tschirgi punted on fourth down from his 27 to the Bearcat 25. Speedy Hazen arrived with the bouncing pigskin, dived on it, and the Tribe took possession.

Gallagher personally paced Jefferson's second score three minutes into the next quarter. The invaluable left halfback ran and passed for the tally in a sustained drive of 13 plays and 93 yards. Kliem grabbed two Gallagher tosses of 21 yards each and on fourth down the latter scooted 34 yards at right end to the San Mateo 2. After three runs, Bantam Bob threw perfectly to Hazen in the left corner for the score.

Bryan McMahon converted his first of two extra points to make it 13-0.

Bob Plows Over

San Mateo had three downs and then kicked to the Jeff 32. In nine plays, the Tribe scored again. Four passes negotiated the biggest part of the distance. Gallagher hit Jack Wilson for 6 yards, Kliem for 18, Hazen for 39, and blond Harold again for the final six. McMahon's boot split the uprights.

Jefferson made it 26-0 a few minutes gone in the second half. Taking the hide on the San Mateo 47, the Indians used nine plays to get the job done. Gallagher's 25 yard jaunt at the right flank sparked the drive which he climaxed by banging over from the one.

San Mateo save a complete rout with a T.D. march with nine minutes to go in the game. It followed a blocked Kliem punt on the Indian 33. Willie Grimes passed 22 yards to speedster Frank Rongey for the damage after five ground slants. Rongey, San Mateo's breakaway threat, picked up the extra point with a toss to end Curry Tjader.

Diamond Defense Tight

Two minutes before the gun, the visitors had their last gasps in a one-sided ball game. Quarterback Ernie Morrison sneaked over from a yard out to end a nine-play 40-yard move.

South's 7-diamond defense was extremely tough as the statistics reveal. San Mateo's reputed running attack with Rongey and Grimes supplying the speed and power, respectively, was arrested by the Tribe's stout defense. In the first half alone, the Mateans could muster only 17 yards on the ground. They lost 12 for a net of five. All told, they got a miserly 62 yards on land to Jefferson's 226.

Jefferson's new-found air assault accounted for 119 yards to San Mateo's 30 on three completions in seven tries.

First downs went to Jefferson, 11-3. Eight penalties went against the locals, while Coach Frank Collin's club was whistled down twice.

Wilson Stars

Gallagher, as usual, and Tschirgi, the driving junior, shared the offensive load. Gallagher ran for 82 yards on nine carries; Tschirgi churned for 80 yards, mostly straight ahead, on 16 carries.

Jefferson's defensive line unit of Pat McCool, Vic Baher, Rich Harrison, Pete Kopcrak, Hazen, and others was tops.

Jack Wilson, offensive right end stood out on defense as linebacker. Wilson has been a steady worker all season, and his defensive work has been of high caliber.

Bearcats Too Late

South opined that his lads played their best game of a terrific campaign. And the passing performance he welcomed with highest satisfaction.

The genial head man out of Stanford made use of his limited reserves in the third quarter and the Mateans came to life, but too late.

Chuck Tienken, sub-fullback for Tschirgi, saw considerable action and the lanky junior exhibited fine potential with his packing ability.

O. L. P. H., AM's Capture Titles In Grid Finale

O.L.P.H. in the A League and Crocker AM in the B League are the newly crowned champions of the Daly City Recreation Department's Touch Football campaign.

O.L.P.H. took the A title for keeps last Saturday with a convincing 20-6 win over Jefferson. Crocker AM climaxed an undefeated season last week at Marchbanks by taking a forfeit win from Crocker PM.

Both champion squads will be presented a perpetual title trophy and each player will get a gold medal.

O.L.P.H. finished with five wins and one loss in A League competition, while the Crocker AMs swept six straight games without a loss.

In other windup action, Crocker PM broke into the win column with a 32-6 triumph over Crocker AM in the A League. O.L.P.H. gridders edged Jefferson 7-0 in the B League finale.

Now that football is completed, the elementary school youngsters are looking forward to basketbal. Director Erle Johnson indicates he hoop competition will begin 'either the first or second week in December."

QUAIL PROSPECTS

Quail shooting should be very good in the Kern County area when the season opens there November 18, predicts the National Automobile Club. Many birds are around and they are in good shape.

Jeff 20s Whip Sequoia For PAL Basketball Title

Coach Mike Orlich's sparkling 120 pound basketball quintet won the Peninsula Athletic League hoop title with a thrilling 36-33 triumph over a good Sequoia five last Thursday at Jefferson.

The win was the 20s ninth in ten games, the last five in league action. Their only loss was a non-league tussle to Poly High of San Francisco five weeks ago.

The 20s improved an 18-12 halftime margin to a comfortable 31-18 verdict at the end of the third quarter. Sequoia closed fast but the clock ran out on them.

Donnie Delbon, rangy center, paced the 20s for the umpteenth time with 18 important points. Forward Larry Hutchinson contributed eight digits and guard Ray Record collared six.

Outstanding ball control was assured by Don Rose and Bud Silva.

The 20s concluded their spectacular season yesterday at home against the San Jose 20s.

Jeff's 10s dropped a close 47-37 decision to the Sequoia lightweights in the preliminary to the 20s titanic.

Forward Dick Trantham tallied 15 points for the losers. The loss gave the 10s a 2-3 slate in P.A.L. games.

Klemmer's Rams Belt Hartnell In NCJCC Battle

Grover Klemmer's City College Rams finally arrived last week with a convincing 20-0 shutout of Hartnell College in Cox Stadium.

Victory in the Northern California Junior College Conference Southern Division game was league win number one for the Hilltoppers against two losses. Overall, the Rams sport two triumphs and four setbacks.

Quarterback Ralph DeLaTorre essayed the comeback by passing for two touchdowns and directing a smooth offense.

Fullback Bob McBride opened the scoring in the first quarter on a one-yard plunge which concluded a 73 yard drive. DeLaTorre hit his targets for six-pointers in the second and fourth quarters.

Hartnell entered the fray with two NCJCC wins and a single defeat.

Gelsi's Outhit Merchants, 17-14, Win Contest, 8-5

In a battle of base hits, Gelsi's Cavern compiled the most and with them an 8-5 win over Haight-Fillmore Merchants last Sunday at Marchbanks Park.

The win advanced the Liquor Lads to a tie for second place in the Double A National League with a 3-2 mark.

The score in the free-hitting contest see-sawed.

Righthander Red Dunn gave the Merchants 14 hits but they produced only a few runs. Led by Bob "Lefty" Arata's three for six and Harry Krohn's three for four, Gelsi's contrived to garner 17 bingles.

Fred Fazio was robbed of a sure extra-base clout in the sixth inning when a fine run and catch by a Merchant outfielder nulified his bases-loaded smash.

This Sunday, Gelsi's tangles with SFAC (3-2) in Marchbanks Park at 2 o'clock. In another critical battle in the heated flag race, leading Double Play (4-1) and Syl's Service (3-1-1) meet this Sunday.

At present, any one of the four . . . . Double Play, Syl's, SFAC or Gelsi's, has a good chance to win the league championship.

Satan AC Scorches Coastside AC, 16-2

Satan AC was really fired-up last week as the men from the boiler room blazed past Coastside AC, 16-2, in a Class A Pacific Coast League game.

The firemen ganged up on two Coastside pitchers for 13 hits, while hurler Paul Viola literally just went through the motions in allowing five enemy hits.

Centerfielder Frank Sartor was the big man with three for four and four runs scored.

The triumph was number four in five loop games for the Satans. They get a bye this Sunday, but resume their pennant chase November 26 against West States Realty at Marchbanks Park.

Pair Locked In P.A.L. Scoring Duel

With three games left to accomplish the feat, San Mateo's Frank Rongey and Palo Alto's Jim Farrell are staging a personal duel for the Peninsula Athletic League scoring title.

In five league games, Rongey has posted 62 points to 60 for the Viking scatback. They both have 10 touchdowns, but breakaway Rongey has two points after touchdown.

Third place in the tally parade belongs to Jefferson's Max Kliem with 31 points, five td's and a p.a.t. Merle Flattley, outstanding Palo Alto end, has 30 points, while another of the Norsemen, halfback Bob Pederson has tallied 25 points on two touchdowns and 13 extra points.

ENTRIES NEEDED FOR BASKETBALL LEAGUE SLATED AT JEFFERSON

There are just two weeks left for teams to enter the Jefferson night basketball league, Director Glenn South warns.

The league, an annual affair, is open to high school and adult quintets and games are played at the Jefferson gym on Tuesday and Thursday nights.

Entries are urged, as at present only two teams, Ralph's Cleaners and Tromborg Plumbing, have turned in entry cards.

Individuals and teams should contact Glenn South at PL. 5-2511 or in person at the Jefferson gym office immediately if they wish to beat the deadline.

Ring Fans Get Double Treat At Boys' Club Show

Daly City sport fans were treated to a double dose of wrestling and boxing last Friday night, professional and amateur alike, in a ring program at the Daly City Boys' Club.

A scheduled dual meet between the Daly City Boys' Club and the San Francisco Boys' Club was called off, but the 150 in attendance got their money's worth just the same.

Highlight of the evening was the appearance of pro rassler Chief White Horse, a 240 pound gripler, in a special exhibition against Frank Bria, Sr., 160, Director of the local Boys' Club.

Whitewater, exhibiting all the tricks of the pro trade, failed to pin brave Bria as he took a no-fall decision. Onlookers were delighted with the experienced performance of the Chief and his speedy opponent.

Two other wrestling matches were on the night's card.

Erich Diebel, a noted amatuer wrestling instructor, brought two matmen for the show. Diebel, 128, decisioned Nick Hitchner, 130, in a fast-moving tussle. Chester Gatewood drew with Billy Willey, former mat coach at Stanford, in the other feature.

Bria had to rearrange his boxing program because the San Francisco Boys' Clubbers cancelled their engagement.

Results were as following over the three round distance:

Carman Bria decisioned Teddy Saumer, both 59 pounds.

Ken Klees, 90, decisioned Don Perin, 90.

Joe Cardinale, 115, decisioned Henry Stevenson, 130.

Lala Huntsman, 105, decisioned Jerry Williamson, 140.

Joe Earnshaw, 160, drew with Donald Pike, 160.

"Soldier Leroy," the Jefferson District School Custodian, and a former lightweight boxer, refereed the bouts.

Some 300 tickets were sold for the atraction, although only half of the buyers attended.

Bria was grateful to Chief White Horse and the visiting wrestlers who made the evening a success.

Sarto AC Rocks League Leading Les Vogel's, 12-5

Manager Vic Baher's Sarto A.C. achieved their biggest victory Sunday as they blasted previously unbeaten Les Vogel's, 12-5, in a Golden Gate Park League attraction.

The loss narrowed Vogel's leadership to a small gap and placed Sarto A.C. in certain contention for the pennant with a 5-2 record. Vogel's now has a 4-1 slate in league action.

Sarto A.C. spanked Dick Mulesky at will with a rousing total of 15 base hits. Jim Silacci and Ben Parodi reached him for three hits each. Babe Ottonello and pitcher Don Mossi both got two hits.

Mossi coasted behind the stick work of his mates who gave him an early lead and maintained it. Sarto AC led, 3-1, 8-2, and 8-5 at various junctures.

The Bakersfield professional allowed seven hits, struck out nine and walked but two.

This Sunday, Sarto A.C. continues its drive for the top spot with a 12 o'clock engagement against Lucky Lager in Marchbanks Park.

Other G.G.P.L. action found the following results: Lucky Lager 6, Ocean Avenue Merchants, 3; Martys The Geary 10, Molkenbuhr 5; Gordon Realty 7, Fosters 5.

In a Big Rec Saturday League game, Eddie Cereghino fanned 17 batters and gave up two hits as Chioino's beat New Pisa, 6-0.

Upland Game Hunt Season Opens In State

Upland game hunters—a quarter of a million strong—may take to the field at 8 a.m., Saturday, November 18, as pheasants, brush and cottontail rabbits, tree squirrels, and quail become legal targets in most sections of California.

During the 10-day open pheasant hunting season, shooting hours for all upland game begin at 8 a.m., and end at sunset. From November 28 to December 31, shooting hours are between one-half hour before sunrise and one-half hour after sunset.

Bag limits are 10 male pheasants a season, but not more than two a day; eight quail; four brush and cottontail rabbits; and two tree squirrels a day. There is no limit on jack rabbits.

A 1950 hunting license is required for all upland game hunting. Pheasant hunters must affix a tag to the leg of each bird taken. Ten tags for $1 are now on sale at Division of Fish and Game offices and license agencies.

OFF THE RECORD

By Roy Hurlbert

Unless they suffer a complete reversal of form, which is unlikely, this season's Jefferson Indian outfit is undoubtedly the best football eleven ever turned out at the Daly City institution.

One thing for sure, it is the most successful.

This is Medicine Man Glenn South's sixth campaign as pigskin professor dating back to his arrival at Jeff in 1942.

South, a halfback at Stanford under Tiny Thornhill and Clark Shaugnessey, took over in '42 and his first team finished with a 6-3 record, good enough for third place in the league.

Air Force duty as a bombardier kept him busy in '43, '44, and '45.

When he returned in '46 he came up with his best aggregation, not counting this one, which posted a 7-2 mark and landed in second place. A 27-14 loss to champion Burlingame denied them the championship.

In '47 Jefferson took fourth in the PAL with an overall 6-3 slate. The '48 campaign was South's only non-winning season. The Tribe just escaped the cellar with a 2-7 record.

Last season, South's minions got over the .500 mark with a 5-4 effort.

T Record

All five previous South editions worked off the T formation. His complete record for those five years is 26 wins and 19 losses.

This time out, his single-wing teachings have paid off with six straight victories. And more wins figure to be added to his tutoring report card. Considering Jefferson's small enrollment, South has been earning his keep. Maybe he could ask the boss for a raise and get it. His argument would read as follows:

	won	lost	pct
1942	6	3	.667
1946	7	2	.778
1947	6	3	.667
1947	2	7	.223
1949	5	4	.556
1950	6	0	1.000
	32	19	.627

How's That Spelling. . . ?

Marchie Schwartz, the man who runs the Stanford Indians, has a big felow on his squad name of McColl. Glenn South, Jefferson grid master and a man who did his footballing down on the Farm, also has a giant on his Indian aggregation. The latter youngster's name is Pat McCool, an Irishman to be sure.

McCool and McColl, regardless of patronage, are outstanding football players. You've heard plenty about Big Bill in the public prints, son we won't burden you with a workout story on that gifted athlete.

But the Daly City McCool is a young man deserving of your notice. Large Pat has done a steady and necessary job in Jefferson's surge towards the league championship. And, so far as we're concerned, he can't be praised too much. Yes, their are 29 other guys responsible for the Tribe's fine record, but like a Swiss watchmaker McCool is the man who makes 'em go.

Uniform Caliber

Glenn South, from week to week, has given a repitious report on the performance of his team. Generally, he would shy away from singling out individual standouts for fear of upsetting the mental attitude of the team.

That's a unique attitude of coaches nowadays. And South is entitled to his stand. The Tribe has a uniform attack with a defense line that has no real standouts. All the forwards are in the same caliber range. They have a terrific charge which allows Jeff's Big Three of Tschirgi, Gallagher, and Kliem to get away.

But there's also something else responsible for the overall success of the club when the Jeffs have the hide.

It's the signal-calling and key blocking of McCool. As QB in the single wing, Pat's duty is twofold. He's the play maker and the blocking back.

Both assignments complement each other. Fall down on one, and your whole season is shot.

McCool would appear to be doing a capable job. The record speaks for his performance. Pat's blocking has indeed been supreme. To a fashion, it has to be. For in the wingback system, your runners will run into a blind alley if they don't get a key block from the blocking back with the offset of each and every play. McCool knows how and when to execute a perfect block and its a comforting sight to behold. He does it right and makes sure he connects for good.

Broken Finger

Pat, a transfer student from Los Angeles has fondled a broken finger on his left hand all season. He injured the digit before the regular campaign started and the injury has been ticklish. When you block play after play, you're liable to get hurt somewhere, especially if you already sport a crippled finger.

Bandage and all however, McCool keeps bowling over charging enemy linemen and at tackle on defense he has been the fifth man in the other teams' backfield.

South has great respect for McCool's brain work and sort of takes it for granted that the hulking 200 pound senior will get the job done well.

McCool, vice-president of the Jefferson student body, shouldn't have too much trouble finding a place to play college football.

South stated early in the season that he is a fine prospect for the colleges. To quote: "Pat does everything well. He learns quickly and intently. He should be a top notch applicant for a college team."

Wonder if South will steer McCool down Stanford way, the former's alma mater. That would be good wouldn't it? McCool and McColl, both on the same side. And both fine all around boys in this game of football.

Big Three Again

Our comparison of Jeff's Gallagher, Kliem and Tschirgi to Cal's Monachino, Schabarum, and Olszewski isn't too far-fetched. The former trio are of equal value to Jefferson as the latter leather luggers are to the Golden Bears.

Jeff's McCool and Cal's Jim Marinos perform a similar role, too. They're underated and vital.

If you think Jeff's Big Three aren't close as a booming unit, have a look at these scoring figures:

Modesto JC Edges San Mateo, 14-6

San Mateo Junior College's Bulldogs continued to be the bridesmaid instead of the bride last week in losing their third Southern Division NCJCC game to Modesto J.C. 14-6.

All scoring came in the third quarter with the host aggregation getting the edge on two touchdown passes. End Dick Sawyer bagged both Modesto scores on the receiving end of tosses from Jerry Streeter and Jim Conover.

San Mateo's tally was made on a 20 yard end sweep by fullback Bill Botieff.

Coach Herb Hudson's team, with only one win in six games, clashes with unbeaten Monterey JC tonight at 8 on the Burlingame High school field.

In four previous contests, the Bulldogs have lost out by the scant margin of a touchdown.

They opened their season with a 20 point win over Marin, 33-13, but in succession lost to Stockton, 18-13, Glendale, 25-13, Hartnell, 19-13, and Muir 25-21.

1,252 SF Landlords Granted Rent Boost During October

Rent overcharge refunds totaling $40,696.53 were made to San Francisco Bay Defense-Rental Area tenants during October, William A. Bledsoe, local area rent director reported today.

At the same time he revealed that his office had granted 1,252 landlords rent increases on 4,140 units averaging an increase of $6.97 per unit or a 19.1% increase over former rents.

The refunds received by tenants fall into two classes, according to Bledsoe; $14,838.49 made voluntarily by landlords after conferences with the area rent office staff, and 26,131.04 which was obtained by the agency on order of the federal courts after voluntary compliance efforts failed.

Violating landlords were also ordered to pay penalties of $4,480.40 to the federal treasury.

October was a busy month in the area rent office, director Bledsoe said. During the month 884 petitions for increases were filed, and 1,068 disposed of. 88.1% of those petitions acted upon were granted, he said.

Tenants complaints totaling 489 were investigated by the office during the month, of which 47 were found either no violation or not actionable.

Of the 189 requests for eviction certificates considered by the area rent office in October, 73% were granted; and 85% of the eviction notices filed were approved as proper.

That Step May Be The Last

Watch your step!

That admonition was made to pedestrians today by the California Highway Patrol.

Pointing out that this season of the year is particularly hazardous for walkers, the Highway Patrol blamed the high pedestrian accident rate on the longer hours of darkness, poorer visibility and preoccupation on the part of many pedestrians.

"Remember, when you step off the curb you are in danger," the Patrol declared. "Keep alert, cross streets only at intersections and obey traffic signals. When walking on country roads, wear or carry something light-colored, and above all, walk against oncoming traffic, not with the stream of cars."

Revival Services Slated Sunday

All Daly City and Colma residents this week were invited to the Assembly of God Church, Evergreen and Hanover streets, for a special revival meeting.

The meeting will be held in the church formerly occupied by the congregation of the Grace Presbyterian. This Sunday will be the first day that the Assembly of God group will be in full "command" of the building.

Evangelist Aderholt of Modesto will lead the revival meeting beginning at 11 a.m.

Meanwhile, Pastor J. L. Jeffrey announced that beginning this Sunday the regular Sunday School classes will be held in the church at 9:45 a.m. instead of in the afternoon.

The Turkey Whist is being held this Friday (tonight), November 17, at 8:30 p.m. in the School Hall at 80 Wellington Avenue.

In addition to the first prize of a turkey order, several other orders will be given. Rumor has it that the ladies have really extended themselves and the whist prizes are numerous and beautiful!

If you don't care for whist, or are, perhaps, an ardent whist-player with a boy-friend or husband or pal who is bored to death with the game, come anyway and bring them along. There will be games for the non-players.

If whist or games have no appeal, there will still be available coffee and luscious home-baked cages and no one can resist that! Everyone in the hall will have a chance to win a turkey order.

The public is invited by the committee in charge, headed by Mrs. Valetta Ennis, Mrs. Dorothy Stewart and Mrs. Marie Marinakes.

Al Palen Will Participate In Sales Promotion Drive

Al Palen, of Al Palen Motors, announced today that he will participate in a national commercial car sales promotion campaign being sponsored by Willys-Overland Motors, Inc., of Toledo, Ohio.

The campaign will commence November 16. It will be supported by an advertising program that will feature individualized ad schedules for the entire Willys-Overland distributor and dealer organization.

Keynote of the promotion, Mr. Palen said, will be to publicly stress payload and economical performance of Willys' 1950 ½-ton, and sedan delivery trucks, both of which are now available with the new F-head "Hurricane" engine featuring improved gear ratio and higher compression.

Beginning November 20, the commercial car campaign will be sparked by field meetings throughout the country to be conducted by Willys-Overland sales management executives.

Dealers and distributors, and their wholesale managers and retail salesmen will participate in the campaign. Willys-Overland will make individualized personal awards and special presentations to winners. The campaign closes December 16.

The Eyes And Ears Of The U. S. Navy

by Jim Gillan
(aboard USS Pollux)

Aboard the U.S.S. Pollux somewhere in the Pacific — Japan's Black Current which is comparable to the Gulf Stream stateside was a dark river flowing north and east distinguishable by the blackness in contrast to the blue Pacific and this fleet isue ship was on course and on time—right on the nose.

The same waters that keep Japan warm and mild, caress the islands and mainland from Alaska to south of San Francisco. A year from now these passed over waters will bring a contribution to the even and pleasant climate of the Bay Area.

No birds followed in the wake of the ship searching for food as occurs along all other land masses, harbors and routes. The story is that all birds had been killed for human consumption long ago. It is also told that Robert Dollar, when operating his fleet into the Orient and around the world, would bring crates of seagulls and release them out here but the hazards of existence proved too much and the gulls ended up in the pots and pans.

No road signs, traffic cops or traffic signals marked the course. The stars are dependable. Objects on sighted land help set directions and bearings. Interpretation, plotting, charting and all the rest depend upon the eyes, hands, experience and knowledge of the navigators, helmsmen, automatic steering devices and other aids to navigation. The course was planned before leaving the harbor—the problem is to stay on it until destination.

The work on this ship, the USS Pollux, shifted from navigation to communications and from underway duties to supplying the fleet upon dropping the "hook" in waters where a very few years ago American submarines, warships and supply vessels finished off the Pacific phase of World War II. Commanding this ship is one of the submariners, Captain H. B. Dodge, Coronado, Calif., famed and decorated submarine skipper. His second in command as executive officer is Lieutenant Commander Howard S. Trimble, 1544 Law St., San Diego, Calif., also a former submariner.

With the ship in place to service everything and every kind of United States Navy ship, the communications business picks up tremendously. Lieutenant Lyford's team of silent telegraphers has been busy early in the morning and far into the night. The first day at anchor, the blinker system operators handled about 100 messages and relayed many others for other ships. A 24 hour watch is maintained on radio signal service. The code board is always available to break coded messages and to codify messages for sending.

The Joaquin Murietta Trail, in Mariposa County, leads to the historic town of Hornitos in the Mother Lode Country.

County Red Cross Offers Aid To Cancer Patients

Sick-room equipment and beds are available on loan for use of cancer patients, according to a statement made this week by Mrs. Alfred Ullo, service chairman of the San Mateo County Red Cross Branch.

Two tumor clinics are maintained by the cancer society. One is held each Tuesday at 10:30 a.m. in the Mills Memorial Hospital. One Saturday a month, another clinic is presented at the Community Hospital. Patients are referred to the clinics by physicians.

Information concerning sick room equipment and the clinics is obtainable by telephoning DI. 3-8495.

County Man Prefers Jail To Service

San Mateo county's first draft dodger of the Korean war will have five years in a federal penitentiary instead of a term in the armed forces.

Thomas H. Burgtorf, 25-year-old former San Carlos resident, was sentenced last week by Judge George B. Harris in San Francisco.

Burgtorf's defense was that he is a member of the Jehovah's Witness cult and therefore should be deferred from military service as he has the status of a minister.

The defendant first refused to take the soldier's oath last year and made an appeal for change of his 1-A draft classification. Called up again recently, he reported at the Presidio but would not submit to the oath.

New Surgical Technique Noted

The development of a technique which may improve operations for the elimination of clots in the arteries, especially in the limbs, has been reported by a group of University of California School of Medicine physicians in the journal, Surgery.

The biggest problem in removing the clot and saving the limb is to prevent the formation of new clots after operation. To do this, surgeons for several years now have used new anti-clotting chemicals such as heparin and dicumerol. It has been customary to inject the patient with the chemicals in such a way that the blood of his whole system was affected.

This has been superior to any other method and has saved many limbs. Since this prevents the clotting of blood, the danger of hemorrhage arises.

To avoid this danger, the University of California physicians have devised a method of administering the anti-clotting chemicals only to the immediate area in which the clot is located, during and after the operation. This is done by inserting a thin polyethelene (plastic) tube in the artery near the clot.

The physicians point out that fluidity of the blood is confined to a local area and is under excellent control in this method. After developing the method in experimental animals, the scientists are now using it successfully in human patients.

The work was reported by Drs. Edwin J. Wylie, Richard E. Gardner, Robert Johansen, and H. J. McCorkle, all of the division of surgery.

Redwood City Bearing Plant Is Ready To Expand In January

Expansion of the National Motor Bearing Company of Redwood City tentatively will start early next year, President Lloyd A. Johnson announced recently.

An addition of between 11,000 and 12,000 square feet will be constructed to house an enlarged engineering and research department plus three executive offices.

Johnson hopes to begin construction about January 1, providing he has available manpower and materials.

Architect Albert F. Roller of San Francisco currently is working on the plans.

LARGE STRIPERS TAKEN

Striped bass anglers have been taking many large fish lately from the waters in the Contra Costa County area, according to the National Automobile Club.

UC Enrollment Down Nine Per Cent

Final state-wide enrollment at the University of California for the 1950 fall semester is 39,492, a 9 per cent decrease from the 43,426 students attending in the fall of 1949, it was reported today by President Robert Gordon Sproul.

Decrease were due, mainly, to a reduction in undergraduate enrollments. Graduate enrollment on the Berkeley campus dropped only 2 per cent and increased by 9 per cent on the Los Angeles campus. On the Davis campus graduate student enrollment climbed from 123 students in 1949 to 220 for this fall.

A drop in veteran registration on all campuses also accounted for the enrollment decrease. Currently there are 11,562 veterans in attendance as compared to 16,936 for the fall of 1949.

Enrollment by individual campuses is as follows:

Berkeley, with 19,916 students, showed a drop of 13 per cent from the 1949 fall figure of 22,681; Los Angeles has 14,318 students, a drop of 5 per cent from last fall's figure of 14,995; Santa Barbara recorded a 16 per cent drop with 1,963 students as compared to 2,328; Davis with 1,627 students showed a 6 per cent drop from the previous figure of 1,723; San Francisco reported an 8 per cent drop with 1,704 students as compared to 1,861. On the La Jolla, Mt. Hamilton and Riverside campuses there was a total increase of four students, 54 as compared to 50 last fall.

Peninsula Bus Fare Hike Okeyed

It now costs three cents more to ride the Peninsula Transit Lines buses between Palo Alto, Menlo Park, Redwood City and San Carlos.

The fare boost from 11 to 13 cents was granted last week by the Public Utilities Commission. The company had sought an increase to 15 cents.

The PUC estimated the raise will increase the company's annual revenue by $27,467, bringing its net income before taxes to $9,732.

Exhuberant Collie . . . Injured Broadmoor Boy

Rustie is a collie dog with a love of life and a special love for his four-year-old master Robert Warner of 819 Thornhill drive, Broadmoor.

Last Wednesday the dog was playing with Robert. In a sudden fit of exuberance the collie gave Robert a push.

A few minutes later Robert was being treated at Junipero Serra hospital for a cut across the bridge of his nose, one on his right cheek and another close to his left eye.

The collie co. had pushed his young master through the living room plate glass window.

Candle Bright . . . Home On Fire

A three-year-old Broadmoor boy and a candle has set the lad's family back $150 for fire damages.

Roger Ladd, 3, 512 Eighty-seventh lighted a candle in the bedroom of his home last Wednesday. He dropped the candle in a waste-paper basket, and the next moment the room was going up in flames.

Colma firemen arrived in time to save Roger and his parent's home. Police Chief Paul Schmidt gave Roger first aid for a singed hand, and firemen cleared the boy's bedroom of damaged furniture and bedding.

CLEANING CAR UPHOLSTERY

Volatile cleaning fluids are excellent for cleaning car upholstery, according to the California State Automobile Association, but car owners are warned against using an excessive amount of cleaning fluid on seat covers and arm rests that are padded with foam rubber. Rubber is attacked by volatile cleaners, and if an excessive amount is used, the rubber may be destroyed.

Rent Control Petition Studied

San Mateo county supervisors won't act on a 300 signature petition asking rent decontrol in the county's unincorporated areas until it can be determined how many of the signers own property.

Supervisor Edward McDonald pointed out it appeared, at first glance that about 95 per cent of the signers listed addressed in incoporated zones, over which the board would have no decontrol jurisdiction.

County Clerk William Augustus was instructed to find how many of the signers own property in unincorporated areas and what kind of a case for decontrol they can present. The information will be given at the next meeting of the Supervisors November 21.

Rent control all over the nation will be lifted December 31 unless local action to continue them has been, or is taken.

Bridle Trail Planned For County

San Mateo county soon may join in the link of a proposed bridle trail from the Oregon line to the Mexican border.

At the regular meeting of the San Mateo county board of supervisors last week E. B. Henley of the state park department asked the supervisors for permission to take the trail through county parks.

The supervisors tentatively agreed to the plan after Henley asserted that county riding groups have approved.

A decision by the supervisors was held up until such time as District Attorney Louis Dematteis checks the deed conditions under which the county parks were presented to the county.

FASHION DRIVE PLAN OUTLINED FOR SF-LA

San Francisco and Los Angeles this week joined forces to promote California's fashion industry as a single unit whose total output will exceed half a billion dollars this year, it was announced here this week.

Officials of the California Apparel Creators of Los Angeles and the Manufacturers and Wholesalers Association of San Francisco said the new plan is mutually beneficial and will permit members of the two organizations to coordinate their promotional programs for market weeks, advertising, freight problems and similar matters.

The first group activity will be the anual market week of the California Apparel Creators in Los Angeles, Jan. 7-10, 1951.

Fruits and vegetables represent 7½ per cent of the world's food supply.

Engineer Claims Reber Plan Only One For SF Bay

By Warren H. McBryde
Consulting Engineer

The San Francisco Bay Project—The Reber Plan—is the only real Master Plan yet conceived that will solve the problems now urgently confronting the Bay Area.

All the Bay Area transportation problems are solved by the low-level earth-filled causeways of the Reber Plan.

Besides, unlimited free fresh water, the life-blood of industries and agriculture, is made available at the same time and at no extra cost for the entire Bay Area by the Reber Plan.

While industries create transportation problems, they produce the Bay Area's prosperity for everyone. Unlimited free fresh water attracts and holds industries.

The Reber Plan low-level causeways solve the automobile and truck traffic problems; also fast interurban and railway transportation to the North Bay counties and to San Francisco.

The low-level causeways obtained by the Reber Plan will give us the salt-water barrier between San Francisco and San Pablo bays for nothing.

The low-level causeway—the Reber Plan southerly crossing—gives us a dam and thus transforms the South San Francisco Bay into a vast fresh water lake at no cost for the dam. Fresh water is this area's most serious problem. It is rapidly getting worse.

The Reber Plan gives unlimited automobile lanes, also high-speed interurban transportation between the East Bay and San Francisco. Besides all three transcontinental railroads can then be brought into San Francisco, their logical terminus.

The Reber Plan is not vulnerable to bombing and sabotage. This is most important considering National Defense.

The proposed high-level bridges will only help automobile traffic nothing else.

No steel is required for the Reber Plan; simply dirt and rock filling from nearby available material and all done by local labor, thus keeping all of our own money at home.

With these enormous fresh water lakes above the salt-water barrier and below the southerly crossing causeway, and the tide land development in front of Oakland, Emeryville, Berkeley, Albany and Richmond—the Bay Area traffic problems will be solved, and besides the entire Bay Area will have unlimited free fresh water. This will create unlimited industrial sites not equalled in any port area in the entire world.

Tide land reclamation then made possible will create industrial sites and agricultural developments likewise unequally anywhere else throughout the world.

Fresh water from the Sacramento and San Joaquin Rivers is California's greatest natural resource. More of this water now goes to waste annually through the Golden Gate than is used.

This Free Fresh Water should all be utilized—not wasted.

The unequalled stratgic location of th San Francisco Bay Area should be capitalized now. No other place on earth offers so much for future productive prosperity.

No other plan will do so much for so many.

No other plan can be built as cheap or as quick.

The Reber Plan helps everyone and hurts no one.

Why not solve the problems of the Bay Area now by adopting the San Francisco Bay Project—the Reber Plan?

SF Policeman To Be PTA Guest

Lt. Alvin Nicolini of the San Francisco Police Dept. will be the speaker when Sheridan PTA holds its November meeting the night of November 21, at 8:00 p.m. in the school auditorium.

He will discuss juvenile protection, and what is being done to protect our children. There will be a limited question period to follow. Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

During American Education Week, demonstrations were held in Mrs. Larson's L1, on Wednesday, November 8, and Miss Nelsen's H1, on Thursday, November 9. Many mothers came to see how their children are being educated.

Sheridan PTA held its annual Halloween Costume Parade, on October 31, at 3:10 p.m. in the Ocean View Playground. School children released at 2:30 were taken to the playground and supervised by the different room mothers, where each class played games until 3:10 when the parade started. Following the parade each child received as a treat, an apple and cookies. A good time was had by all.

New Submarine Range Discovered

A tremendous underwater mountain range—1,000 miles long, 100 miles wide and up to 14,000 feet in height—has been discovered in the central Pacific by a joint University of California-U. S. Navy expedition.

The submerged range, which has been named the "Mid-Pacific Mountains," stretches all the way from Wake Island to Necker Island near the Hawaiian group.

Hydrographic charts previously indicated isolated shoal points in this area, but the findings of the expedition proved conclusively that these were not isolated peaks but the summits of a long, continuous mountain range as mighty as the Sierra Nevada.

Most of these sea mounts were flat of top—as if eroded by wave action in shallow water and then sunk below the surface. Clam, snail and sea urchin shells were dredged up from some of them. In one instance, a piece of reef coral, which normally grows in from 100 to 200 feet of water, was dredged from a submerged mountain top that has now sunk to the 6,000 foot level.

Entitled "Operation Midpac," the expedition was sponsored by the University of California's Institute of Geophysics and the Office of Naval Research and Bureau of Ships of the U. S. Navy, and carried out by the University of California's Scripps Institution of Oceanography and the U. S. Navy Electronics Laboratory at San Diego.

Dr. Roger Revelle, Acting Director of the Scripps Institution, was the leader of the 30 scientists from five institutions who participated.

Harriman Named To Head Red Cross

E. Roland Harriman, apointed November 2 by President Truman to replace General Marshall as head of the Red Cross effective December 1, has been active in Red Cross work for many years.

Well-known New York banker and railroad executive, Mr. Harriman has been a member of the Red Cross Board of Governors since 1947 and was appointed a Vice President of the Board at the organization's National Convention in Atlantic City in June 1949.

In 1946 he headed a committee appointed by Basil O'Connor, then Red Cross President, to study the Red Cross organizational structure. The far-reaching recommendations of his committee, providing for greater participation in Red Cross affairs on the part of chapter leaders, were embodied in a congressional amendment to the organization's charter signed by President Truman on May 8, 1947.

Harriman has carried out many other special Red Cross assignments, including National Chairmanship of the organization's Annual Fund Appeal in 1949, when the quota of 60 million dollars was oversubscribed by almost 8 million dollars.

US Reports New Data On Cancer

The first strong evidence that a virus may be the cause of some cancers in man has been reported by Dr. Warren L. Bostick, associate professor of pathology in the University of California School of Medicine, San Francisco.

Viruses have been demonstrated to cause cancer in animals, but convincing evidence that such agents are responsible for cancer in man had been lacking.

A virus had long been suspected as the causative agent in Hodgkins' Disease, because in many ways it resembles an infectious disease more closely than any other type of cancer. It is accompanied by swelling of gland and lymph tissue, and is attended by recurring fever. Acceptable evidence for the existence of such agents had not been forthcoming, however.

The scientist used the fluids from fertile chicken eggs for his experiments. Into the eggs he injected extracts of Hodgkin's Disease tissue. The extract killed a significant number of the egg embryos, which would be one of the effects of a virus.

Dr. Bostick said that these and other experiments conducted over a period of 7 years add up to the strongest evidence yet for the existence of a virus as the cause of Hodgkin's Disease. Further research should reveal something of the nature of the virus, indicate its action, and perhaps show how the virus may be attacked.

His work has been reported in part in the Proceedings of the Society for Experimental Biology.

Square Must Be Beautified Over Garage

The Recreation-Park Commission this week declared that any plans for an underground garage at St. Mary's square here would have to include restoration of the surface park area.

The Commission said St. Mary's square is vital to the many persons living and working in that congested area and no construction would be permitted that would permanently deprive the people of its use.

Use of subsurface space beneath a park or square fro a garage is not prohibited, even though there is a temporary suspension of surface use during construction. This point was established in the courts here prior to construction of Union Square Garage.

"At hatchery is needed in any given area only if through its operations the type of fish desired can be produced more economically than they can by habitat improvement or any other type of management at our disposal."—Leo Shapovalov, Supervising Fisheries Biologist, Division of Fish and Game.

Although the 1895 Legislature authorized appointment of county game wardens, only six counties appointed such officers during the next five years.

Hallinan To Head March of Dimes

Appointment of Jerry Hallinan of San Mateo to lead the 1951 March of Dimes Campaign in San Mateo County was announced today by L. M. Giannini, California March of Dimes Chairman.

In announcing the appointment of Jerry Hallinan Giannini said California is now faced with one of the greatest infantile paralysis patient loads in our history. There have been over 1,989 new cases of polio in California this year and the carry-over load of old patients still receiving treatment is staggering.

Epidemic aid of over $596,970 has been sent from the National Foundation headquarters to California chapters who have exhausted their funds. Trends indicate the many more polio cases expected before the year-end will exhaust the epidemic aid fund.

Giannini stressed that California as well as the rest of the nation must have a successful 1951 March of Dimes campaign in order that the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis may continue with their pledge not to allow any case of infantile paralysis within its jurisdiction to go neglected for lack of the best available care.

War Declared On Traffic Deaths

Full-scale warfare against traffic deaths and injuries in California will be the theme of the 1950 California Traffic Safety Conference, to be held in Sacramento December 7th and 8th, Governor Warren announced today.

More than five hundred local, State and national leaders in all phases of traffic safety are expected to participate. Sessions will be held in the Capitol.

The Governor is scheduled to deliver the keynote address. Archibald M. Mull, Jr., prominent Sacramento attorney and immediate past president of the California State Bar, will be general chairman.

Conference

This is the third such conference called by Governor Warren, and is based up recommendations made by the President's Highway Safety Conference.

"During the past ten years traffic accidents have killed more than thirty thousand and injured more than six hundred thousand men, women and children," Governor Warren said. "As we enter a new decade we must work unceasingly to see that this tragic story is not repeated. This requires the cooperation of all State and local officials and a greater public awareness and appreciation of the problem. We have made progress, but we must not sit back and congratulate ourselves on it. Our present accident toll shows how far we have to go to finish the job."

Following the opening program the conference will divide into seven sections, considering such phases of traffic safety as education, engineering, enforcement, motor vehicle administration, commercial vehicles and public information and support.

PEDESTRIAN HAZARD

As winter approaches, bringing earlier hours of darkness, the pedestrian hazard increases, warns the California State Automobile Association. If you drive after dark, be particularly alert for persons afoot. If you walk, don't jaywalk, and wear or carry something white.

"When game populations are down, as they are in many areas this year the true sportsman supports with word and deed his harrassed fish and game authorities who are trying to perpetuate this sport by reducing game bags and the length of hunting seasons." William Voigt, Jr., western representative, Izaak Walton League.
